20 MARCH 2020

I am sending you two essays on equivalence and types of translation. These are topics we have done in the class but there are a lot of examples of Hindi to English translation and the problems arising out of being culturally disparate. 12:18 pm

Next time I will try to send them in a pdf. I hope the order of pages is correct. I also rotated them to get them in the same upright position, but I see many of them lying prostrate, as if the corona has struck them and they can't get up. I am sure you will be able to work out the page numbers and rotate them to get them in a more presentable shape. Please excuse my lack of technological competence.

Would it be better if I did all this on email? Also, Whatsapp is chatty and not formal enough, doesn't feel like I am 'working from home.'
