Event Description

On 17th of March, the Social Innovation department of Enactus, Hansraj College embarked on a drive to Lil Seeds NGO in Mayur Vihar. This report highlights the activities conducted during the visit aimed at promoting hygiene awareness and engaging with underprivileged children.

The team gathered at the residence of one of its members, Neerav, before proceeding to the NGO in the afternoon. Upon arrival, the team engaged with the children, introducing themselves and initiating an interactive session on basic hygiene practices.

Discussions emphasized the importance of maintaining hygiene through handwashing, sanitation, and regular bathing.

Following the discussions, the team conducted a fun activity to reinforce hygiene concepts.

Children were tasked with creating their imaginary superhero themed around hygiene. Equipped with sheets, pencils, and colours, provided by the team itself, the children enthusiastically participated, showcasing their creativity and understanding of hygiene principles.

After the activity, both the team and children pledged to prioritize health and hygiene, contributing to a better world. Additionally, the team distributed biscuits and snacks to the children, fostering a sense of joy and camaraderie. The team and the children gathered together to finish thing up with some group clicks.

The drive concluded with participants receiving certificates for their volunteering efforts. The experience not only provided valuable hygiene education but also instilled a sense of responsibility and compassion among the participants. Overall, the drive was a success, contributing to the welfare of underprivileged children and fostering community engagement.

The success of this drive was made possible by the dedication and efforts of all team members, as well as the support of Lil Seeds NGO and their members.
