Deepotsav : The Festival of Lights

Deepavali , a festival which holds deep spiritual significance , was started in a happy memory of return of Lord Rama . Since then every household celebrates deepavali in India with great joy irrespective of their class, status, income etc. So with the moto to spread happiness , WDC members reached Dhobi Ghat, Malka Ganj, Delhi to celebrate Diwali and share this immense feeling with all .

At Dhobi Ghat we met unprivileged kids and their family members and then the event started with distribution of snacks to all the kids there , the simplest way to bring a smile on a kid's face . Next started the rangoli making to give a perfect touch of festive season along with mehendi competition which helped us in engaging more with the people.

Continuing our interaction we started played various games and with that dancing and singing were a side activity all the time adding a cherry on top of celebration. This make us realise that real happiness never depends on how well conditions you are living in and with these small steps we can remove the thin line of poverty.

Last but not the least not forgetting our objective of women development we distributed pads, spreading message of menstrual hygiene and concluding our event.
