Date of the Event: 2nd February, 2019

We, at NSS Hansraj, realise the need for sensitising people regarding accidents and mishaps happening everyday, and the thousands of lives that are lost due to absence of primary first aid knowledge in people. Tackling the same issue, N.S.S. Hansraj conducted a First Aid Workshop in Yamuna Khadar Slum, wherein the residents were made aware of adopting primary measures for frequent emergencies. The campaign was led by Dr. Satish from Chacha Nehru Government Hospital explaining the general mishaps like dog bite, sudden chills, burns, breathing difficulties and the curative nursing for each. He also engaged with the questions from the masses regarding the same. In parallel, a sensitisation programme about general health, aimed at children, was also conducted and was received warmly. N.S.S aspires to spread utmost awareness amongst the slum dwellers so that they can be able to tackle any minor accident meanwhile averting any further damage. We would like to thank Dr. Satish and our volunteers for their everlasting support and contribution!
