Garbage and litter have become a vexing problem for all human habitations all over the world. However, with better management, technology and scientific knowledge, we can tackle this issue. One of the sustainable and economically viable approaches is converting the biodegradable waste to manure. Motivated by the same thought, we at N.S.S. Hansraj hosted a workshop on "Manure from Waste" on 30 October, 2019 for the people of the Yamuna Khadar slum area. Mr. Praveen Mishra from 'Chatt Par Bhagwani Group' chaired the session. This workshop aimed to make the people of the slum aware of the techniques of converting their household waste into manure and the benefits therein. The programme concluded successfully and proved to be beneficial for all.
