Cultural Function Felicitation and Ceremony on International Women's Day

On March 11, 2024, a Cultural Function and Felicitation Ceremony was organized by the Ram Vyom Foundation and Hindi Sahitya Parishad at Hansraj College, University of Delhi, to celebrate International Women's Day. The event commenced at 12:30 PM and continued with various programs and award ceremonies throughout the day. Program Highlights: The event was graced by esteemed guests, including Ms. Surabhi Tiwari, a renowned social worker, who served as the Chief Guest for the occasion. The ceremony aimed to honor and celebrate the exceptional contributions of women in various fields. Felicitation: As part of the ceremony, a total of 51 women were honored with awards for their outstanding contributions in diverse fields. These women were recognized for their remarkable achievements and positive impact on society. Cultural Performances: The event also featured cultural performances, including dance, music, and poetry recitations, showcasing the rich cultural heritage and talents of women. These performances added vibrancy and enthusiasm to the celebration, highlighting the spirit of International Women's Day. Speeches and Discussions: Several speeches and discussions were held throughout the event, emphasizing the importance of gender equality, women's empowerment, and the need to recognize and appreciate women's achievements. These discussions aimed to inspire and motivate attendees to work towards creating a more inclusive and equitable society. Conclusion: The Cultural Function and Felicitation Ceremony on International Women's Day at Hansraj College, University of Delhi, organized by the Ram Vyom Foundation and Hindi Sahitya Parishad, was a resounding success. The event provided a platform to honor and celebrate the invaluable contributions of women to society while also promoting cultural diversity and gender equality. It served as a reminder of the importance of recognizing and appreciating women's achievements and contributions in all spheres of life.

Brave Talks

The "Brave Talks" event was organized by the Women Development Cell in collaboration with Yuvva Foundation and sponsored by Maybelline. This engaging initiative focused on mental health, attracting a remarkable footfall of 1,650 students over two days.

The event featured four insightful seminars that provided a platform for experts to discuss various aspects of mental health, fostering awareness and understanding among attendees. Complementing the seminars was an exhibition organized in partnership with the Counseling Unit of Hansraj College, showcasing resources and information related to mental well-being. One of the highlights was an open mic session, where students were encouraged to share their experiences and thoughts on mental health. This helped in reducing stigma surrounding mental health issues.

At the conclusion of each seminar, participants received Maybelline hampers and certificates. The event not only educated students but also empowered them to engage in discussions that promote emotional well-being. Overall, "Brave Talks" successfully created a supportive environment, encouraging students to prioritize mental health and seek help when needed. The collaboration of various organizations and the active participation of students underscored the importance of community in addressing mental health challenges.

Boss Ladies

The Women's Development Cell of Hansraj College, in collaboration with Bossladies, organized an Entrepreneurship Forum on 13th February 2024 at the Hansraj Main Auditorium. The event aimed to inspire and educate young women about entrepreneurship through the journeys of successful entrepreneurs. The event was exclusively for girls and featured prominent speakers from various industries.

The event commenced with an introduction to entrepreneurship by Priyanshi Dhir, founder of Barkens. She shared her journey, highlighting the challenges she faced and the lessons she learned along the way. Following her, Dr. Pallavi Bansal, from Duuet, shared her insights and experiences in the entrepreneurial world. The final speaker, Tapsee Upadhya, founder of Btech Panipuri Wli, shared her story, emphasizing the importance of perseverance and passion in entrepreneurship.

After the speeches, a Q&A session was conducted by Himja Rana, founder of Bossladies, where the audience had the opportunity to ask questions to all the panelists. The session was interactive and insightful, providing 200 attendees with practical advice and tips for starting their entrepreneurial journey.

The event concluded with the distribution of Barken bread and vitamin D3 tablets, as the symbol of success.
