Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) and Research Development Council (RDC) Hansraj College organized a seminar on the topic "Bridging prototyping and success and ethical publication in Innovation". The idea behind organizing this seminar was to communicate India's scientifically validated traditional knowledge to society and get into the details of Traditional Knowledge Digital Library (TKDL) unit, a unique initiative of Council of Scientific & Industrial Research (CSIR).

The program started at 12 noon, where Vice Principal Ms. Alka Kacker, Prof. Vijay Rani Rajpal, Teacher in charge, Department of Botany and Innovation Coordinator, IIC, and Dr. Arti Mishra were the panelists. Dr. Mishra from the Department of Botany, Hansraj College gave a brief introduction to the topic and invited Prof. Vijay Rani Rajpal for welcome and for introducing the guest, Dr. Viswajanani J. Sattigeri. Prof. Rajpal motivated and enlightened all the attendees and also highlighted the importance of this seminar

Dr. Viswajanani delivered seminar on the topic "Bridging prototyping and success and ethical publication in Innovation". She started the seminar with a discussion about the goal of Traditional Knowledge Digital Library (TKDL) which is a pioneering initiative of India to protect Indian traditional medicinal knowledge and prevent its misappropriation at International Patent Offices. She gave detailed insights into the topic and explained very clearly "Velly of death" concept. She further discussed the importance of networking. She highlighted the role of universities and academia with a case study. She particularly discussed research ethics and given examples of many cases of research misconduct and how to prevent it.

The session was very informative and interactive. Students were very enthusiastic to see her presentation with different case studies. This seminar was very helpful and informative for all the students. Students learned a lot and also showed their willingness to start short projects. Finally, at around 1 p.m. Dr. Arti Mishra ended the session with a vote of thanks. Here are some photographs of the event.
